

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 1st '90.
The Republican Senators, having grown tired of listening to the twaddle of the Democratic Senators on the McKinley tariff bill this week, began to make some sensible speeches on that measure. Senator Aldrich led off with an argument fairly bristling with telling facts in favor of the bill. Senator Morrill was the next Republican speaker, and, as usual, his speech was carefully prepared and well worth listening to. He began by saying that as some Senators on the other side seemed to be provoked at the silence on the Republican side of the chamber he would claim a short time and try not to thresh over any of the old straws of tariff debate. Continuing he said: "The bill offers in several instances (conspicuously in that of tin) an increase of duties for the purpose of giving employment to a larger number of laboring men and for the purpose of keeping at home many millions of money now sent abroad. This country has the tin ore, the iron and the coal; why then should it annually send abroad twenty-eight millions in gold for tin?" He then paid his respects to Senator Voorhees for having falsely stated that none of the war taxes on any of the great staples of human necessity had been repealed or lowered. He then cited the general reductions in 1870 when there was a new classification of duties on sugar and a removal of the duties on tea and coffee. Continuing he said: "By adding to the free list of last year the articles which this bill places on the free list about one-half the importations from foreign countries would be absolutely free from all customs duties."

The House refused to grant fifteen leaves of absence that were applied for this week, fearing that it might break a quorum, which is somewhat difficult at best to keep together just now.

Nothing could possibly be sillier than the absurd stuff which is being sent from here to Democratic papers concerning a Republican conspiracy to force Mr. Blaine out of the Cabinet. There is absolutely nothing in the story. Some Republicans differ with Mr. Blaine as to certain points of public policy, but there is no personal ill-feeling in it, and no Republican is prouder of our brainy Secretary of State than Speaker Reed, who is credited, by the Democrats, with working to "down" Mr. Blaine.

Senator Hoar, chairman of the committee on Elections, which has been considering the Federal Election bill, has gone to New England for a few days, and it is not thought that any further changes will be made in that bill until he returns. It is not expected that the bill will be reported to the Senate until the tariff bill is disposed of.

The Post Office department will save nearly a half million dollars on the contract for furnishing stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers for four years from the first of next October, which has just been awarded to the Plimpton Manufacturing Company and the Morgan envelope company of Hartford, Conn.

The Senate Postoffice committee has reported a bill providing a postal telegraph system. A bill for one cent letter postage would be far more popular. Not one person in a thousand sends or receives a telegram once a year; but everybody is constantly writing and receiving letters.

The Senate committee on Post-offices has favorably reported a bill extending the free delivery system to all towns of 5,000 population when the receipts are $7,000 per annum. It is estimated that 294 towns will get free delivery if the bill becomes a law.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY.

Good Agricultural Land for $10 to $20 per Acre.

The Pacific Improvement Company has recently purchased fifty thousand acres of land in the State of Nevada, for the purpose of promoting subdivision and settlement. This land embraces lands from first-class sections of Valley agricultural land, to land of fair average quality, and is offered at from $10 to $20 per acre, in subdivisions of 40, 80, 120, 160 and 320 acres.

The terms upon which these lands are offered are especially attractive. They will be sold in subdivisions, as above indicated, by the payment of interest only for the first year, at which time the purchaser can begin the payment of principle by paying the first of five equal annual installments. Thus no part of the principle is to be paid for three years and then the purchaser is to have five years in which to pay five equal annual installments, with interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, making payments extending over a period of eight years. Intending purchasers are assured that this is an opportunity to purchase land of fair average quality at $10 per acre, and a good agricultural land at $20 per acre, with other grades of land at prices to correspond between these figures.

The assertion is frequently made that good lands, suitable for general farming and especially adapted for fruit growing cannot be had in California for less than from $50 to $100 per acre. An examination of the land subject of this advertisement will prove to home seekers that this is an opportunity for the purchase of good agricultural land at $20 an acre, and for qualities grading down to fair agricultural land at $10 an acre on terms of payment which should make the disposition of these lands to actual settlers a result easy of accomplishment.

The primary object of the purchase of this body of land was the breaking up of a large holding for the purpose of promoting its settlement in smaller quantities and its devotion to diligent husbandry.
